

Pastor's Corner

Sometimes when I am shaving I will call our oldest son Jason into the room to join me. I will take some of the shaving cream and carefully tab it on his cheeks to give him that fresh shave feeling.

Then he will stand very still while I use the back of the razor to gently brush away the cream that lies on his cheek. He seems to enjoy the experience as do I.

So it was that this past Wednesday I was preparing to head out for the day and before breakfast I went into the bathroom to quickly shave. Jordan was already in his high chair ready for breakfast but Jason came with me to shave. However, Tina realized that Jordan may be feeling left out and so she helped him up from his chair. So it was that as I called Jordan, he came hurrying over for his first shave. So there they stood, both our boys with shaving cream on their faces waiting for their shave. Like brother, Jordan stood still while I carefully wiped away the cream from his cheek and chin.

Why do I share this with you? First, I am a proud Papa and enjoyed this special moment so much that I wanted to share it with you. The other reason I share it is because it reminds me of the fact that we were created in the image of God and what He must feel when we seek to emulate His ways. Part of what made Jordan's shaving experience special was the fact that Jason was standing right there with him and now, instead of experiencing the excitement of having one boy shaving with me, I was rejoicing over having two there beside me. As our Father in heaven looks upon His children, I know He must rejoice every time another child comes along who in faith looks up to Him and seeks to be like Him. We each are unique and thus we each reflect Jesus a little differently. How His heart must be touched as each new reflection appears.

Today as we consider the important part each of us play in the body of Christ, remember that God wants your participation as you are able to reflect Him in a way that no one else can.
